

YOUNG LAWYER OF THE MONTH

Anthony J. Fasano

The Young Lawyers Committee (YLC) is proud to honor Anthony J. Fasano, Esq., as the Young Lawyer of the month.

Mr. Fasano works at the Law Offices of Guercio & Guercio, LLP, where he practices Education and Personal Injury Law. Mr. Fasano represents clients in student disciplinary proceedings, residency meetings, appeals to the Commissioner of Education, guardianship proceedings, and personal injury matters in New York Supreme Court.

Mr. Fasano graduated cum laude from Adelphi University in 2009.

In 2009, Mr. Fasano also received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the New York Army National Guard as a Field Artillery Officer. He was activated and served during Operation Hurricane Irene and Operation Superstorm Sandy, receiving the Humane Service to New York State Ribbon for both.

In 2013, Mr. Fasano graduated cum laude from Touro Law School.

During law school, Mr. Fasano served as a Research Editor on the Touro Law Review. His case note, The Decline of the Confrontation Clause in New York, 28 Touro L. Rev. 929 (2012), was published and subsequently cited by the New York

State Supreme Court in People v. Umpierre, 951 N.Y.S.2d 382 (Sup. Ct. Bronx County 2012). Mr. Fasano was a Dean's List recipient for multiple semesters throughout law school.

Mr. Fasano is admitted to practice in the State of New York and the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York.

Mr. Fasano is an active member of the Nassau County Bar Association, including the Young Lawyers Committee and the Publications Committee, as well as the New York State Bar Association's Young Lawyers Section.

The YLC congratulates Mr. Fasano on his accomplishments and contributions to the community and wishes him continued success in his endeavors.
